Thirty-six honoured at the Nanyang Alumni Awards 2016
校长寄语

亲爱的校友们：

你们好！非常荣幸地宣布，当一年一度的世界大学排名榜即将公布前夕，我校获得世界著名大学第三年蝉联“世界顶尖大学”第十名的荣誉。这反映在QS排名机构公布的“世界大学排行榜上”，南大也连续两年保持了全球第133名的地位，在亚洲则排名居前。南大之所以能取得如此卓越的成就，主要归功于我们杰出的校友们。由于你们从事深度研究工作而积极参与国际合作，大大提高了南大的全球声誉。

身为一位教育工作者，我们总是很骄傲地欢迎每一届的毕业生，而今年的毕业生尤为特别——2016年的毕业生将南大校史长达25周年的纪念。

借此机会，我要特别感谢那些慷慨解囊的校友，帮助南大实现追求教育卓越的愿景。李敏锐校友就是其中一位。他最近捐赠了100万元人民币，资助南大工程科学的学生完成学业。这笔捐款加上政府的配套资金，总额达到300万元。

今年的南大校友论坛，南大校友协会将推出校友“南洋校友奖”，以表彰他们在各个领域的卓越成就和重大贡献。校友们的无私成就，亦录谱著南大在社会上所扮演的重要角色。

最近几个月，从校庆到合作，南大一系列的活动如约进行，特别是在新加坡国家环境局及环境局研究所的领导和支持下，南大在环境保护和可持续发展方面取得了重大进展。南大在环境保护和可持续发展方面的贡献，得到国际社会的广泛认可，包括2016年联合国气候变化大会的合作伙伴。

南大在科技方面一直遥遥领先，最近与新加坡国家环境局及环境局研究所联合成立了“资源再生与可持续发展”项目，该项目由新加坡国立大学和南大共同主办，旨在促进资源的可持续利用。

校友们，特别感谢你们对母校的支持，让我们继续保持联系。我非常期待在你们在南大毕业的校友会圣诞派对上，与你们共度一个难忘的夜晚。南大校友会将继续为校友们提供更多的活动和资源，以促进校友间的交流和合作。

HATS OFF TO THE CLASS OF 2016

It is a rather special year for the Class of 2016 as NTU is also celebrating its silver jubilee anniversary, said NTU President Professor Bertil Andersson at the kick-off ceremony of the 2016 Convocation on 25 July 2016.

"From a teaching university in 1991, NTU has rapidly progressed to become a globally recognized research-intensive university today, ranking 13th internationally and first among the world's young universities," he added.

Gracing the ceremony were: Dr Win Cho Yaw, Pro-Chancellor of NTU and Chairman Emeritus of UOB; and Ms Ong Ye Kung, Acting Minister for Education (Higher Education and Skills).

Over 9,000 graduates received their bachelor’s and higher degrees, adding to NTU’s 200,000-strong alumni network. A survey carried out by NTU showed that almost 7 in 10 have already secured jobs before graduation.

This year sees the pioneer batch of graduates from three programmes—the Renaissance Engineering Programme (REP), the University Scholars Programme (USP), and the History programme.

NTU also conferred honorary doctorate degrees on optoelectronics expert Professor Sir David Payne and masters potter Mej Idris Jali.

ANCIENT MYSTERIES, TODAY'S TECHNOLOGIES

Ancient technology and modern science converge in the hunt for answers to mysterious events of the past.

Artemis Liu's Chinese name is Yu Min, which roughly translates to 'Citizen of the universe.' This is a fitting description for the young, bold explorer that set out to unravel one of archaeology's most confounding mysteries: the location of the tomb of famous Mongol king Genghis Khan.

In a National Geographic Live session organized in partnership with NTU on 30 August 2016, Dr. Lin shared the findings of his past six-year journey.

Using cutting-edge technology, he has now uncovered what could very well be Genghis Khan's long-lost burial site on a remote, sacred mountain. Its true location has been a fiercely guarded secret for hundreds of years, with folklore even saying that a river was diverted over it to make it impossible to find. Dr. Lin's work into unraveling the mystery behind it all—going through satellite images of great swaths of Mongolia, which was made possible by the crowdsourced efforts of 28,000 amateur map creators—was astonishing.

"I'm trying to do is find ways in which I can use technology to take on these big challenges but at the same time, inspire people and kids to pursue science," Dr. Lin shared during an exclusive pre-event cocktail reception as he mingled with NTU alumni and other attendees.

FLYING THE FLAG FOR THE CHINESE COMMUNITY

How apt it is that in 2014, Mr Wu, as Executive Chairman and CEO of Starco Corporation Limited, would lead his company to acquire the iconic 165-metre-high Singapore Flyer, which offers a 360-degree view of the Singapore skyline.

Indeed, the Singapore Flyer is a testament to the Chinese heritage and culture of Singapore. As a long-time alumnus from Nanyang University, I feel extremely honoured to have received this award from NTU.

I am sure that many Chinese alumni who have made major contributions to the University and society as well," said Mr Wu.

A respected senator in the Chinese community, Mr Wu serves on the Board of Governors of NTU’s Chinese Heritage Centre and Confucius Institute. This year, Mr Wu was conferred the Public Service Medal at the National Day Awards 2016. "I have always been dedicated to promoting quality education and the importance of Chinese culture in Singapore. This award means a lot to me in every sense," he said.

A HEART FOR PUBLIC SERVICE

As a ‘turning point to a new chapter’ is how Y.B. Datin Sri Dr Wei Ka Siong, Member of Parliament (MP) representing Ayer Hitam, Johor, and Minister in the Prime Minister’s Department, Malaysia, remembers his time as a Masters student at NTU’s School of Civil and Structural Engneering.

"I still recall the days of crossing the Causeway every day from Johor Bahru on my motorcycle to attend classes. I am glad to be part of NTU’s tremendous leap of transformation over the years since I graduated in 1983."

Dr Wei said.

The long-time public servant still refers to the engineering principles he learned at NTU in guiding his work today. "As engineers, we have to learn how to apply engineering and logical reasoning to our daily work and life," he said.

"The one constant we share is our ability to be problem-solvers. I have always believed in the philosophy that there is always a solution to any problem we face. This principle is also one that I have consistently employed throughout my work as a government official and public servant from even before I was first elected as MP for Ayer Hitam in 2004."

Dr Wei, a 1982 graduate of the Nanyang Technical University’s Award, has always made time to give back to NTU. In 2014, he helped to launch the NTU Alumni Association (Malaysia) and remains its patron.

"I am fiercely aware of my own obligation to give back to society. Being conferred this honour reaffirms my belief in making the most of our given life and living a life that is genuinely useful for the benefit of the society," he said.

LYRICS THAT MAKE THE HEART SOAR

Can any one person start a musical movement that unites people from all walks of life and inspires their national pride? That would be Dr Liang, a pioneer of the Xpns (Singapore song) music movement with over 200 musical compositions and songs under his belt.

Staying humble about his contributions, Dr Liang made a point to acknowledge the groundswell of support from the media.

"The Xpns music movement can never be built single-handedly. I draw strength from the support of the public, my friends and the media," he explained.

"But the community supports me in giving people space for Xpns activities. The media is less commercialised—radio stations would allocate 30-minute time slots for musicians to record their music in the studio. When completed, we would broadcast it with a short introduction about the composer and the song.

"Citing "Snows with a Bamboo Twig" (鷄卵竹枝) as his favourite composition, Dr Liang is also a prolific writer whose essays and poetry have earned him accolades such as the Singapore Book Prize in 1996.

Yet another Dr Liang wears is that of an educator. The 2008 recipient of the Nanyang Alumni Achievement Award is also an Adjunct Associate Professor with NTU’s Division of Chinese, and he offers NTU students the perfect example of how never to rest on one’s laurels.

"I am someone who is always enthusiastic about taking up new challenges," Dr Liang said. "I will continue taking on new projects such as composing songs for drama series and movies. I am also debuting a new album in mid-October which has 15 new and recent compositions."

NTU’S BRIGHTEST STARS

Besides NTU’s top honours, 11 alumni received the Nanyang Alumni Achievement Award, which recognises alumni for their significant contributions to the University. They were joined by an eight NTU alumni under the age of 40 who received this year’s Nanyang Outstanding Young Alumni Award for their exemplary contributions.

As the organisation that oversees the award programme, two of its members, 14 individuals were awarded with the Nanyang Alumni Service Award.

“工程”名就共享荣耀

工程，不仅是一个名词，更是一种精神。南大机械与宇航工程学院校友，在新加坡三重打击中心（SC3DP）的活动中，展示了自己的才华和智慧。他们不仅在科学领域取得了显著的成果，更在社会活动中展现了南大人的风采。

活动当天，学院门口挤满了热情的校友和嘉宾。在一栋大楼前，校友们齐聚一堂，分享了自己在南大的学习和生活。在这些校友中，有南大机械与宇航工程学院的校友，也有其他高校的校友。他们围绕着校友会的宗旨，进行了热烈的交流和讨论。

晚上，校友们在新加坡的华埠区进行了一次盛大的聚会。聚会上，校友们分享了自己的故事，也表达了对母校的热爱和感激。整个活动在热烈的气氛中圆满结束，校友们彼此留下的联系方式，将成为他们未来交流和合作的桥梁。

南大机械与宇航工程学院作为南大的重要组成部分，一直致力于培养具有创新精神和国际视野的高素质人才。我们期待着有更多的校友能够加入到校友会的大家庭中来，共同为南大的发展贡献力量。

Beyond sharing social media tips, the alumni forum also brought together career experts from the industry to discuss the future of social media. Mr. Hakekian (NEB/2004) summed it up best: “This alumni event is like a networking platform, done in a very professional way. It’s my first time coming to any alumni event, but I have already made friends, even with someone from totally different generations.”

盛大的ZOUK
SCHOOL’S OUT ZOUK’S IN!

毕业啦！经过几百年的寒窗苦读，当然要有美食和音乐来庆祝一番。2016年毕业的校友们在9月14日齐聚新加坡最负盛名的酒吧ZOUK，欢度毕业派对。

南大副校长（校友与发展事务）李庆教授出席了此次盛会，并与大家分享了南大校友会的发展历程。他强调，南大校友会将继续为南大校友们服务，提供更多的机会和资源，希望大家更加积极地参与南大校友会的活动。

什么更好的方式来庆祝四年的学习和成就呢？与大学校友们一起，举杯畅饮，共度美好时光。

What better way to commemorate years of hard work and achievements than with a night of drinks, good music, and even better company? Alumni from the Class of 1966 gathered at Zouk Singapore on 6 August 2016 to celebrate the occasion of their graduation in style.

NTU Vice President (Alumni and Advancement) Professor Lee Sing Kong kicked off the night with an energetic opening address. Prof Lee assured the graduates that the University will continue to support them in their future endeavours. To cheer from the crowd, he wished them all the best and asked them to fly the NTU flag high.

Next, the packed crowd was treated to stellar dance performances by NTU’s own modern jazz dance society ‘H’ Hip Hop and breakdancing society Breakers. Thereafter, the newly minted alumni took over on the dance floor while others mingled and caught up over drinks and food.

Fresh graduate Mr Clinton Tan (EEE 2016) expressed his appreciation for the organisation of the event. “All of our friends will be working in different industries, so it’ll be difficult to meet up often,” he said. “This party is a nice conclusion to the three to four years that we’ve spent in university.”

For Ms Eunice Seow (HSS 2016), her fondest memories of NTU would be those of her time spent with friends. Hall 12. “It will definitely miss hall life the most. University is where you get the opportunity to socialise and participate in many activities outside of the academic curriculum. But the end could also be a good time for new beginnings, according to Mr Chen Xing Jun (SPMS 2016). “As fresh graduates, it is natural for us to feel nervous for the future,” she said. “Even then, we should continue to reach for our goals with a positive mind-set.”

O ver the weekend in July, some 120 alumni and their families
toured Malaysia for a chance to savour the King of Fruits. The 2D1N trip to Johor Bahru, which took place from 30—31 July 2016, was organized by the NTU Alumni Affairs Office.

The first stop was Aw Pottery, located close to Ayer Itam, a town in Johor known for its ceramic and porcelain crafts. Built in the 1950s, its 48-metre-long brick kiln is one of the last remaining few in Southeast Asia and produces around 2,000 pieces of pottery at each firing.

Next up was lunch at a durian
plantation, which of course featured a delicious buffet of juicy durians. The participant had a chance to appreciate this at the point, and attacked the spiky
fruit with gusto.

Following lunch, the group headed to UK Farm, which at 130 acres is Malaysia’s largest grazing and sheep farm.
The animals proved to be a hit among the younger crowd, who made a beeline
to feed the goats, whilst others learnt
how to bake their own goat’s milk muffin. As the fruit farm, the participants had a go at making their own passion
fruit juice.

The second day began bright and early with a visit to the Fruit Gauding Krean Museum, which features everything about traditional kites, also known as eloy or layang-layang in Malay. As the fruit farm, the participants
had a go at making their own passion
fruit juice.

虽然当时觉得痛苦，但南大读书的那些年，其实对我来讲是一个很好的锻炼过程。我读的项目是计算机工程，几乎每个月都有机会到实验室里接触课堂外的实际应用。我的专业工作，但我在学校里遇到的不论是老师还是同学，都对我影响深刻。在南大，我结识了许多来自世界各地的朋友，也有了许多难忘的回忆。

南大是一所理论和实务并重的大学，而其中一学期的企业实习让我在正式踏入职场之前有实际的工作经验。除了把课堂上学到的知识转化为实用的技能外，在实习所得到的职场人际沟通经验是在课堂上或实验室都学不到的，这也对我后来踏入社会有很大的帮助。

我个人目前担任International Site Manager, 大多数的时间都在新加坡及各地的工厂协调工作，我很喜欢目前的工作。因为我本身也很喜欢体验不同的文化和不同国家的同学交流其实是一件非常有趣的事情。我也很享受自由旅行，游览世界各地，和住在各地的老朋友叙旧，也有机会认识更多来自世界各地的新朋友。
