Dr. Paul Chiew

Group Director of Laboratories Group and Program Chief (Food Safety)
Agri-Food and Veterinary Authority of Singapore (AVA)

Dr Paul Chiew is currently Group Director of Laboratories Group and concurrently Program Chief (Food Safety) at the Agri-Food and Veterinary Authority of Singapore (AVA). Dr Chiew has been closely involved in the regulatory framework of AVA as the national food safety agency covering science-based approaches to food safety and hygiene, risk assessment, inspection, laboratory analyses and veterinary public health. He is also involved in numerous national and regional food safety and standards committees.

As Group Director of Laboratories, he oversees AVA's multi-disciplinary laboratories, The Veterinary Public Health Laboratory which is the National Food Safety Testing Laboratory as well as the Plant Health Laboratory and Animal Health Laboratory responsible for animal and plant health diagnostics in Singapore.