Everything could be so much better! Video Installation at ADM gallery 2015, Elke Reinhuber

Learning Objective

In this intermediate-level course you will explore the creative space that lies between image, sequenced image, motion-graphic, and video. Using the image as a starting point, you will explore how time-based processes can add extra dimensions to your visual explorations. You will expand imagery into time-based artistic formats and produce video art installations that can be presented in an exhibition context. You will also gain a basic understanding of genres and forms of Video Art and other artist's moving image work within contemporary art and wider media practice.
