19. Apply project management skills in the realm of maritime related projects.

Course Content

This internship programme, being a work-integrated education course, has its educational content embedded within the work environment and assignments that students will undertake at each internship organisation. For this reason, the internship job scope will be evaluated by the assigned NTU Faculty Supervisor and the Organisation Supervisor of the internship organisation using the following criteria:

1. It is relevant to the student's discipline of study.
2. It provides the required attachment duration.
3. It accommodates NTU's attachment periods.
4. It provides sufficient structure and rigour that will enable students to achieve the intended learning outcomes as listed above.
5. It provides the appropriate workload for the stipulated internship period;
6. It enhances the career prospects of the student.
7. The internship workplace is safe and conducive for student learning and development.
8. The internship workplace is equipped with the necessary resources for the attachment work.
9. The internship organisation has standing policies to safeguard the welfare of students.
10. The internship organisation supervisor possesses the competencies, experience, and the commitment to provide guidance to the students.
11. The internship organisation will use NTU's internship assessment scheme for students.

Assessment

This is a Pass/Fail course with the final outcome determined collectively by your NTU Faculty Supervisor and your Organisation Supervisor.

The assessments will be based on the intended learning outcomes (ILO) as mentioned above and you should familiarize yourself with them as they will be your focus throughout the internship.

Your Organisation Supervisor will assess your performance at the internship workplace through an evaluation form "Assessment of Work in the Organisation" (AWO). He/She will complete this evaluation at the end of your internship.

Your Faculty Supervisor will facilitate and assess your learning, development, and growth throughout the E-journal submissions. The E-Journals are where you will reflect on your experience, learning, growth and achievement of the relevant ILOs. Keep the ILOs in mind throughout your experience and undertake or seek challenges in the workplace that will provide you with opportunities to generate experience and evidence regarding your competencies.

You should maintain a personal journal to log, weekly, your tasks/assignments, skills used/learned, challenges met, solutions derived, networking, as well as other useful notes throughout your internship. Your weekly entry should be between 200 – 500 words. You are to work out a Gantt chart on your internship task/work scope with your supervisors by the end of week 2 and track your progress.

Formative feedback

Continuous feedback on progress and performance can be expected from student's internship organisation supervisor.

Student's Faculty Supervisor will also provide feedback through the student's internship E-Journal submissions and/or site visits.

Learning and Teaching approach

An internship is an experiential learning programme done in a professional setting. Students will be placed in an organisation for the entire internship period and will undertake work assignments and/or projects in the organisation. It is through such work in the real-world environment where students learn and develop the competencies and experiences relevant to the intended learning outcomes of this course.

Each student will be supervised by

- (1) an Organisation Supervisor at the internship organisation, and
- (2) a Faculty Supervisor in NTU.

The Organisation Supervisor will be the key person working with and interacting with the student on a day-to-day basis. The Organisation Supervisor will be one providing guidance and feedback to the student on a regular basis.

The Faculty Supervisor from NTU will serve to facilitate student's learning and progress through interactions via E-journal submissions, email, phone, and/or visits. The Faculty Supervisor will also be each student's first point of contact for any matters arising from the internship. Student can also contact the respective internship Programme Manager at NTU's Career and Attachment Office as an alternative.

Professional and Academic Integrity

An internship concerns work in a professional setting. As with good academic work, good professional work depends on honesty and ethical behavior. The quality of your work as a student relies on adhering to the principles of professional and academic integrity and to the NTU Honor Code, a set of values shared by the whole university community. Truth, Trust and Justice are at the core of NTU's shared values. Refer to this link for details: <http://www.ntu.edu.sg/ai/Pages/shared-values-honour-code.aspx>

As a student, it is important that you recognize your responsibilities in understanding and applying the principles of integrity in all the work you do as a student of NTU. Not knowing what is involved in maintaining integrity does not excuse professional and academic dishonesty. You need to actively equip yourself with strategies to avoid all forms of professional and academic dishonesty, including and not limited to, plagiarism, fraud, collusion and cheating. If you are uncertain of the definitions of any of these terms, you should go to the academic integrity website for more information. Consult your NTU Tutor if you need any clarification about the requirements of professional and academic integrity in the course.

Course Instructors

Your Faculty Supervisor or the period of your attachment will be allocated to you after the placement process is completed.

This internship course is managed and administered by your school's attachment course coordinator as well as NTU's Career & Attachment Office.

Planned Weekly Schedule

Your attachment work schedule will follow that provided by your Attachment Organisation.

Annex 2: Assessment Rubrics for E-Journal 1 and E-Journal 2

You are required to submit a total of two E-journals and one Final E-Journal documenting and reflecting on your internship experience in relation to the relevant intended learning outcomes of this course for each work term under the NTU Work Study Degree Programme

E-Journal 1 and E-Journal 2 will be assessed in Week 3 and 6 (for 10/11 weeks internships) or Week 6 and 12 (for semester-long internships) respectively during the internship. These are purposed to be formative assessments where you will receive feedback on your progress.

For each of these E-journal submissions, you are to choose 3 ILOs from the list provided and present evidences and reflections on each one.

- Evidences can be provided in the form of text descriptions, photographs, or drawings (ensure you seek clearance from your internship organisation should sensitive information be involved).
- Reflect critically on the evidences and the experience producing them, relating them to how they demonstrated your achievement of the specific ILO (or how they helped you to do so): Particularly but should not be limited to - what were the tasks (or observations) and their contexts, actions taken (or lessons drawn) by you and their reasons, and results achieved? What did you learn (e.g. information, knowledge, skills)? Evaluate your own capabilities and attitude where appropriate.
- E-Journal 2 should focus on 3 other ILOs not already covered in E-Journal 1.
- If you wish to provide further evidences and reflections on ILOs which you have covered in an earlier e-journal submission, you are encouraged to do so. Such new evidence(s) and reflection(s) should demonstrate your development and growth.

Criteria for E-Journal 1 and E-Journal 2 (10% each)

Focus	Criteria
Achievement of ILO	Conclusive achievement of ILO. Able to be give critical and thoughtful reflection on the experience of achieving the ILO with sufficient supporting evidence. Clear and concise articulation of thoughts.

Annex 3: Assessment Rubrics for Final E-Journal

Your Final E-Journal submission will be assessed towards the end of your internship (i.e. Week 10 for 10/11 week-long internships; Week 20 for 20 week-long internship)

For this final submission, your focus is to cover the remaining 4 ILOs and present evidences and reflections on them. In addition, an overall reflection on your internship experience as a whole is expected:

- Evidences can be in the form of text descriptions, photographs, or drawings (ensure you seek clearance from your internship organisation should sensitive information be involved).
- Reflect critically on the evidences and the experience producing them, relating them to how they demonstrated your achievement of each ILO (or how they helped you to do so): Particularly but should not be limited to - what were the tasks (or observations) and their contexts, actions taken (or lessons drawn) by you and their reasons, and results achieved? How are the achievements validated (by supervisor, colleagues, stakeholders, etc.)? What did you learn (e.g. knowledge, skills)? How will you do things differently and better?
- If you wish to provide further evidences and reflections on ILOs which you have covered in E-Journal 1 and E-Journal 2, you are encouraged to do so. Such new evidence(s) and reflection(s) should demonstrate your development and growth.
- Your overall internship reflection will include but not limited to: Your overall experience in the internship, what are your strengths and weaknesses? Did the experience affirm or revealed them? How will you build up your strengths and reduce your weaknesses? How do you now view this industry and this sort of work? What alternatives will you consider? Knowing what you now know, what are your tentative career plans after graduation? What will you do from this point onwards to put those plans in act?

Criteria for Final E-Journal submission (30%):

Achievement of ILO	Conclusive achievement of ILO. Able to be give critical and thoughtful reflection on the experience of achieving the ILO with sufficient supporting evidence. Clear and concise articulation of thoughts
Overall Internship Reflection	Clear and critical reflection on the internship experience as a whole.

Annex 4: Assessment Rubrics for Final E-Journal (For PA Winter only)

Your Final E-Journal submission will be assessed at the end of your 5-week internship.

For this submission, your focus is for all the ILOs and present evidences and reflections on them. In addition, an overall reflection on your internship experience as a whole is expected:

- Evidences can be in the form of text descriptions, photographs, or drawings (ensure you seek clearance from your internship organisation should sensitive information be involved).
- Reflect critically on the evidences and the experience producing them, relating them to how they demonstrated your achievement of each ILO (or how they helped you to do so): Particularly but should not be limited to - what were the tasks (or observations) and their contexts, actions taken (or lessons drawn) by you and their reasons, and results achieved? How are the achievements validated (by supervisor, colleagues, stakeholders, etc.)? What did you learn (e.g. knowledge, skills)? How will you do things differently and better?
- Your overall internship reflection will include but not limited to: Your overall experience in the internship, what are your strengths and weaknesses? Did the experience affirm or revealed them? How will you build up your strengths and reduce your weaknesses? How do you now view this industry and this sort of work? What alternatives will you consider? Knowing what you now know, what are your tentative career plans after graduation? What will you do from this point onwards to put those plans in act?

Criteria for Final E-Journal submission (50%):

Achievement of ILO	Conclusive achievement of ILO. Able to be give critical and thoughtful reflection on the experience of achieving the ILO with sufficient supporting evidence. Clear and concise articulation of thoughts
Overall Internship Reflection	Clear and critical reflection on the internship experience as a whole.
