

Ethereum Identity Management System

Created Using:

1. Android Java
2. Ethereum blockchain
3. W3C Credentials

An Android digital identity management system that uses Ethereum blockchain to store digital identity documents and keys. These keys are used to sign other documents to ensure integrity and authenticity. W3C Verifiable Credentials format is used to store and present verifiable data. End-to-end encryption is used for data storage and transmission.

