

COURSE CONTENT

Course Code & Title	:	HL4013 Advanced Studies in Literature & Culture: Ecocritical Approaches to Literature (Category F: Specific Interest Subjects)
Academic Unit	:	4 AU
Pre-requisite	:	HL1001

Course Description

This module examines some pressing issues in Ecocriticism, a growing field which studies the relationship between literature and the physical environment. We will start with two well-known post-apocalyptic texts by Le Guin and Lessing, move on to a provocative use of satire to explore the cultural politics of climate (McEwan) and close with two “postcolonial” ecocritical texts that raise important social justice considerations (Sinha and Ghosh). The texts are used to examine the tensions and antinomies underpinning contemporary environmental debates and ecocritical practice. Among other things, we will examine frameworks and perspectives such as reform environmentalism, anthropocentrism, biocentrism (deep ecology), and downshifting. The module encourages a reassessment of the conceptual oppositions and social hierarchies that affect environments and habitats.

Learning Objectives

1. Students will read five novels in the field and use close reading skills to discuss the issues raised therein. Major writers in the field will be covered.
2. Students will engage some important topics and issues in green cultural studies, viz.: general features of ecocritical practice and ecological utopian fiction, anthropocentrism versus biocentrism, global “risk society,” and environmental ethics.

Content

Course Outline

Weeks	Text/topic	Readings	Misc
01	Introduction		We will watch/discuss excerpts of documentary titled “Affluenza”

02	The Dispossessed
03	The Dispossessed
04	The Memoirs of a Survival
05	The Memoirs of a Survival
06	Solar
07	Solar
	RECESS
08	Animal's People
09	Animal's People
10	The Hungry Tide
11	The Hungry Tide
12	Summary

Learning Outcome

Students will obtain an introduction to green cultural studies and its recurrent concerns and debates.

Student Assessment

Students will be assessed by:

One written assignment	40%
Class presentation & participation	10%
Final Examination	50%
	100%

An essay of around 2,200 words is required for the written assignment component of the course.

NOTE -- Both soft and hard copies of the essay must be submitted.

Textbooks/References

A. The primary readings are:

1. The Dispossessed, (1974), by Ursula K. Le Guin
2. The Memoirs of a Survival (1974), by Doris Lessing (Winner, 2007 Nobel Prize for Literature)
3. Solar, (2010), by Ian McEwan
4. Animal's People, (2009), by Indra Sinha
5. The Hungry Tide, (2004), by Amitav Ghosh

B. Secondary readings will be confirmed later.