

Come Visit! The Newly Completed RGE-NTU SusTex Gallery Awaits

We are excited to announce that the RGE-NTU SusTex Gallery is now officially open and ready for visitors!

Designed as an immersive storytelling space, the gallery serves as a bridge between the complex technical research conducted in the SusTex laboratory and the global challenges of sustainable textile practices.

Visitors are invited to journey through the reality of the growing textile waste crisis, explore the major challenges in the recycling process, and discover the innovative solutions SusTex is developing to address them.

The SusTex Gallery is more than just a showroom, it is a dedicated educational space designed for a diverse range of audiences, from industry professionals and government stakeholders to students and educators.

Experience the Story of Circularity

Whether you are interested in the science of recycling or the large-scale impact of sustainable fashion, the gallery provides a deep dive into how we are closing the loop on textile waste.

We invite you to explore our new space, engage with our researchers, and join us in our mission of threading a new future with textiles sustainability.

A glimpse into the SusTex Gallery.
