

Trendlines Medical Singapore operates through investing in, incubates, and provides a range of critical services to nurture and support Singapore-based entrepreneurs and start-up companies in the medical device sector from development to commercialization in the global market.

We are looking for Project Manager to join our portfolios group located in Singapore. More about us and our portfolios: <https://www.trendlines.com/business-units/medical-singapore/>

Roles & Responsibilities

- Overall management of the company
- Manage day-to-day operations & oversee engineering team, marketing, quality assurance & regulatory activities to achieve project objectives/ milestones
- Lead development of product commercialization and regulatory strategies, including working with the team to select & manage subcontractors and vendors
- Manage business development and fund-raising
- Manage company finances, including preparing budgets/ projections and preparing for audits

Skills & Requirements:

- Preferable with Degree in Mechanical or Biomedical Engineering
- Good technical knowledge and business acumen
- At least 5 years' experience in project management, start-up fundraising, medical device sales
- Good understanding of medical devices regulatory, quality systems and clinical pathway
- Experience in regulatory submissions (FDA) an advantage
- Effective communicator with strong command of spoken and written English
- Preferable someone with electronic background or with software/medical imaging background
- Strong leadership skill. Able to lead the team in continuous improvement

Interested applicants, please send CV to: hr_sgp@trendlines.com