

IN-cube LAUNCH

The Centre for Information Integrity and the Internet (IN-cube) was formally launched on 26 January at the Wee Kim Wee School of Communication and Information (WKWSCI) Television Studio. The launch included opening addresses from Professor Joseph Liow, Dean of the College of Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences, and Professor May Lwin, Chair of the WKWSCI.

Click on the photo to access the recording of our virtual launch.

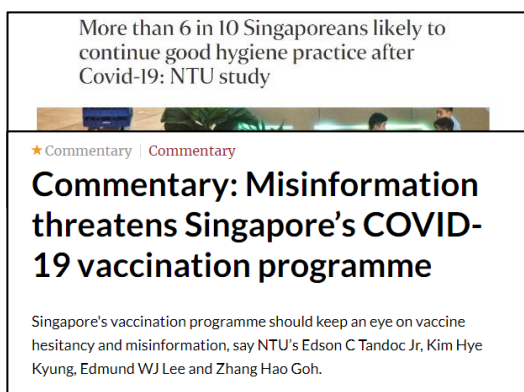

IN-cube also shared results from its first national survey, focusing on information behaviour and outlook amidst the COVID-19 pandemic. Presenting IN-cube's findings were IN-cube's Director, Assoc Prof Edson C. Tandoc Jr. and Assoc Prof Ke Yiping (SCSE), Asst Prof Benjamin Li (WKWSCI), Asst Prof Edmund Lee (WKWSCI), Asst Prof Caleb Tse (NBS), and Dr Goh Zhang Hao (WKWSCI).

IN THE PRESS

IN-cube published its 'New Year, New Normal' factbook, which includes infographics summarising our survey findings, from Singapore residents' behaviour and outlook during COVID-19 to their use of communication tools and their spending habits during the pandemic.

You can access our factbook by clicking on this link.

Read about IN-cube's research via news coverage of our events as well as our news commentaries.

Here's a link to our recent commentary on the link between misinformation and vaccine hesitancy.

WEBINARS & EVENTS

Held on 23 February, Love in the time of COVID was the inaugural event in IN-cube's regular webinar series. Our first guests included What's the Big Deal (WTBD), a student-run awareness campaign at NTU, as well as Dr Jason Cabanes from De La Salle University.

Watch it here on YouTube:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=j652k2XDWuq>

Our second webinar was held in 31 March titled Defending Election Integrity, moderated by Prof Ang Peng Hwa and featuring Adam Clayton Powell III from the University of Southern California as our guest speaker.

IN-cube's Research Fellow, Dr. Zhang Hao Goh, shared about our survey findings on online dating at The Projector on 14 March. The event, which seeks to raise awareness on sexual harassment on dating apps, was organised by NTU's What's the Big D?