Scaling Innovation

sustaining
change

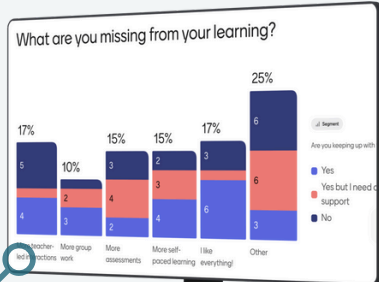

Innovation begins as a spark before it grows and flourishes. In this issue, we see how faculty are deepening their digital fluency through FacTEL electives such as the Mentimeter webinar and exploring the enhanced Blackboard UCV with smarter AI features and a streamlined interface. We also introduce Notebook LM, Google's AI-powered notebook for smarter study, and highlight the new IN-Learning website—a hub for bold ideas, EdTech, and collaboration. Together, these stories reflect how NIE is scaling innovation while sustaining meaningful change in teaching and learning.

FACULTY DEVELOPMENT

Learning Analytics: Why and how is it valuable to educators in NIE?

Join our upcoming FacTEL Electives to discover how Learning Analytics can inform your teaching. From Mentimeter's latest data-tracking features (16 Oct) to a lunch talk with NIE experts (29 Oct), gain practical insights and strategies to enhance student engagement.

PEDAGOGICAL INNOVATION

Teaching made easier with NTULearn Ultra Course View

On 1 July 2025, NIE launched NTULearn Ultra Course View (UCV), a refreshed and user-friendly upgrade to our learning management system. With its clean design, intuitive navigation, and AI-powered tools that generate modules, rubrics, and discussion prompts, UCV is helping faculty save time and enhance teaching. UCV goes beyond an upgrade — it's a step forward in creating smarter, more engaging, and future-ready classrooms.

FACULTY ENGAGEMENT

Your New Gateway to Innovation in Education

The Centre for Innovation in Learning (IN-Learning) has a brand-new look! Our redesigned website is your refreshed hub for innovation, collaboration, and pedagogical leadership at NIE — a platform to explore Blended Learning, Teaching & Learning Grants, the Learning & Teaching Framework, and GenAI for Teaching and Learning, guiding faculty development, research-informed practice, and reflective innovation.

EDTECH SPOTLIGHT

Turn information overload into organised, actionable knowledge with NotebookLM

NotebookLM, Google's AI-powered "notebook for your sources," helps transform readings into clear, actionable insights. Upload documents to instantly generate summaries, quizzes, mind maps, podcasts, or video overviews. For both educators and students, NotebookLM makes teaching and studying smarter, more interactive, and efficient.
